CROSSWAH Community Based Correctional Facility (CBCF) is a residential program for appropriate adult males who require in-patient treatment. The program was created by the court, probation, parole, and/or the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Correction, and the Adult Parole Authority. Offenders classified as sexual offenders can be directly referred by the court, probation, parole, or the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Correction, and the Adult Parole Authority. Offenders can be closely monitored.

Programming The CBCF program is designed to last four to six months and consists of three progressive phases. Throughout the program clients are closely monitored and subject to routine and random alcohol and drug testing.

Upon admission, clients are restricted to the facility for a minimum of 30 days. They are assessed for substance abuse, employment, cognitive skills, and other necessary needs or behaviors. After appropriate programming is established and a client demonstrates readiness, appointments for job searching, school, 12-step programs, etc., may be pre-approved and then verified. Eventually clients prepare to return to the community by establishing housing and fiscal responsibility.

When clients successfully complete all program requirements, they are released to community supervision (probation).
